

Donaghue Foundation Public Access Policy

The research that the Donaghue Foundation funds contributes to the acquisition of knowledge that can ultimately improve human health. To ensure this knowledge can be accessed, read, applied, and built upon in fulfillment of that goal, Donaghue Foundation expects its researchers to publish their findings in peer-reviewed journals.

In addition, it is a condition of Donaghue Foundation funding that all peer-reviewed articles supported in whole or in part by its grants must be made available in the PubMed Central online archive in accordance with the following conditions:

- Authors are to deposit an electronic copy of their final peer-reviewed manuscripts in PubMed Central immediately upon acceptance for journal publication.
- The manuscript is to be made publicly available in PubMed Central no later than 12 months after the official date of journal publication. This requirement applies to all Donaghue Foundation grants awarded after 2014.

PubMed Central is a database of full-text biomedical journal articles available online without a fee. It is hosted by the National Library of Medicine in the National Institutes of Health. Once posted in PubMed Central, results of research become more accessible, prominent, and integrated within the context of other research findings, making it easier for scientists worldwide to pursue their research. Equally important, families, clinicians, patients, educators, funders, and students reap the benefits of information arising from funding by accessing publications on PubMed Central at no charge.

An author must acknowledge The Patrick and Catherine Weldon Donaghue Medical Research Foundation support in every article arising from such funding. The acknowledgement statement must include the applicable Donaghue Foundation grant numbers. This will enable Donaghue Foundation to link the published outputs of research to the support it has provided.
